A CORRECT CENSUS.

The Government Wants the Truth, and All the Truth, and Nothing But the Tr

"The local Census Bureau matters are pretty well tied up just at present by the quarantine," said James W. Girvin yesterday. "We are, on that account, doing a great amount of work by mail and receiving answers testifying to the willingness of correspondents to give us all assistance in their power. We first addressed the sugar planters, sending them a sample schedule, which they will have to fill by next June in answering the census questions. Letters were then sent to the leading men of the different districts, and their co-operation in the work of the census-taking was readily secured.

"There are but five districts in which provision for the census-taking have not been made. We are now ready to go out and work, but are embarrassed by the strict health regulations. The semi-official report of 44,000 people in Honolulu has changed our calculations considerably, as, at the outside, we had estimated about 35,000 population in the Kona district and had figured upon nineteen men as sufficient to do the work. The town had been carefully districted and sub-divided, as it is in a large district. The Kona district extends from near Paul Isenberg's place, at Waialae, to Moanalua.

"The Chinatown fires came and the population of the thickly settled parts was distributed around so that the work of mapping out will have to be partially gone over. It has been found that the Island of Lanai, which was thought to have a population of about 200 souls, all told, is occupied by some 600 people; and the work there that we thought might be done by one man in a short time will take much longer to complete. The electoral districts, as defined by the code, have not been changed by us, but sub-divided, so, in case we were called upon to show the population of any one division, it might be readily done.

"Mr. Merriam, chief of the Census Bureau, has been very kind in rendering us all necessary aid in our difficulty. Twice lately we have written encouraging letters to him of the situation; but we seem now to be as much tied up as ever again. Our mail, by arrangement with the Government, is all franked. In our letters of inquiry we enclose a franked envelope for reply.

Although hampered as regards outside work, the office of the local census-takers is a busy place. There are six sets of blanks to be labeled 'and numbered, and as the sub-divisions of the districts are many, the work is very tedious, and must be very carefully done to avoid mistakes.

Our Uncle Samuel is an inquisitive old fellow and wants to know many things that he don't care to have everybody know about. His questions are numerous and some of them very pointed; as, for instance, in the population blank known as Schedule No. 1, some of the inquiries made are as follows: Name of each person, whose place of abode was in the family of John Doe on June 1, 1900. Relation of each person to head of the family? Their race and sex; month and year of birth; age at last birthday; whether single, married, widowed or divorced; mother of how many children; how many years married; number of children living; place of birth; place of birth of mother; place of birth of father; year of immigration to Hawaiian Islands; number of years in Hawaiian Islands; naturalized or denizen; occupation, trade or profession of each person over ten years of age; time not employed during year; attend school; can person read; can person write; can person speak English; can person speak Hawaiian; do you own your own home or rent it; is it free or mortgaged; is it a homestead lot or kuleana or house?

These questions will satisfy the census man and must be answered. Schedule No. 2 is of the schools, It calls for the name and location of the institution; Government or independent; day or boarding school; cost of buildings; rent of school buildings per
